*Both Rep. Jimmie Don Aycock and Speaker Joe Straus exemplified strong leadership in support of public education during the 83rd legislative session. The metrics used did not adequately reflect the actions they took to prevent bad bills from coming to the floor and to push for the adoption of significant legislation that included increased funding for public schools and HB 5, which significantly reduced the number of assessments required of high school students and made changes to graduation requirements. Too, Speaker Straus did not always vote on the bills that came to the floor. Aycock's and Straus's ratings were, therefore, increased to reflect our appreciation for their strong leadership.
