A&E's special film here in February

By Wayne Allen

An episode from the A&E series Intervention: In-Depth will air at 9 p.m. Monday, April 11, and then again at midnight April 12.

The video was shot in Scioto and Adams counties in February for filming.

"I know who they interviewed and that the people said," said Lesa Roberts, a public health nurse with the Portsmouth City Health Department. "I hope this show will expose just how serious the problem is. I expect them to do it in a comprehensive manner."

According to KICX’s website, the show has been dubbed “Intervention: In-Depth: Hillbilly Heroin.”

The website also summarizes the area’s drug problem: “Scioto County is on the DEA list of top 10 places for prescription pill trafficking. The county has seen a 360 percent increase in fatal drug overdoses, with nine of every 10 of those deaths attributable to prescription painkillers. Dealers get their pills from ‘pill mills,’ cash-only clinics that dispense prescription painkillers in mass quantities.

We show how prescription drugs, especially “Hillbilly Heroin,” are fueling the drug epidemic, and the latest epidemic: the overdose epidemic. You will see how dangerous the drug is and how dealers are the major threat to themselves and those who they addict with the goal of getting them to keep them addicted for a lifetime."

Member of the Ohio Woodlands Job Corps stationed at Shawnee State Forest recently assisted the Division of Forestry staff with the maintenance of Copperhead Fire Tower.

By Wayne Allen PDT Staff Writer

According to the Ohio Department of Natural Resources (ODNR) Division of Forestry, the Copperhead Fire Tower in Shawnee State Forest has recently been renovated and restored.

The work was completed by members of the Ohio Woodlands Job Corps stationed at Shawnee State Forest with assistance from Division of Forestry staff.

ODNR says the lumber used for the stairs and cabin was grown and milled in state forests.

“We are happy to have the towers standing on Ohio State Forests completely renovated, and all are welcome to visit Shawnee State Forest and Copperhead Fire Tower,” said Robert Loyables, state forester and chief of the ODNR Division of Forestry.

“Those who are able may climb the tower, enjoy a breathtaking view, and take a look at the amazing view nearly 60 feet up in the steps. There is also a bench on the platform for those people who are unable to climb the steps but still want to enjoy the view, breathing in the fresh mountain air and enjoying the scenery.”

Murder victim’s dog found wandering street

Sheriff says they have person of interest in case

By G. Sam Piatt

PDT Staff Writer

GREENUP, Ky. — A murdered woman’s dog has been found wandering the streets more than two weeks after her death, and the sheriff says the killer could have been someone where the dog was familiar with.

Lola “Cricket” Lee, 40, was found dead March 4 by her husband, Steve Lee, at their home off East Main Street, a quiet neighborhood in this town of about 1,200 people.

Lee had been stabbed at least twice in the neck, and her boxer, Pandi, who neighbors said was very protective of her, was gone.

Greenup County Sheriff Keith Cooper said at the time that finding the dog was a priority because that might give them a clue as to who killed Lee.

"It must have been somebody we know," Cooper said.

The dog was found March 21 wandering the A-A Highway near the Lewis County line, 30 miles west of Greenup.

Cooper, whose deputy, David Bronaco, is heading the investigation, said Wednesday they still didn’t have much in the way of clues to go on, but did say they have “a person of interest.”

Pandi, Leslie Lee’s 9- or 10-year-old boxer, was found 16 days after her murder wandering along a Highway 4. A-K Avenue.

Ohio's State Park reservation system data compromised

By WAYNE ALLEN

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources announced Friday there was a data breach involving the InteractiveLinx, a Maryland-based company that manages the state's reservation system and point of sale for state parks. ODNR reported the incident February 25, noting it has not exposed consumer credit card information.

“A forensic investigation is under way to determine the information compromised,” ODNR said in a statement. “ODNR reports no information was compromised in connection with ODNR’s data.”

ODNR reported it has released information affecting its reservations and point of sale system to Infosphere, a Maryland-based company that provides software and data to the Ohio Chapter of the National Park Service.

“ODNR says consumers are not at risk of identity theft associated with their reservations,” ODNR said. “It’s important for people to continue to monitor their credit reports, particularly for instances where card numbers were used.”

“Identity theft was not part of this breach and has not been reported as such,” ODNR confirmed. “ODNR is working with Infosphere to fully and continuously protect from identity theft, said Chief David Taylor, ODNR’s director.

“Identity theft has been a top priority for the state’s parks program for at least 10 years,” Taylor said. “As far as ODNR knows, there are no reports of any card information being used or abused.”

It’s unclear how many consumer credit cards were compromised in the data breach. ODNR announced by the company that it is working with Infosphere to fully and continuously protect people from identity theft.

Taylor was found early Friday morning.

No bail had been set.

Taylor was found just 30 minutes later when police received a call of a burglary and a call of a missing child.

Taylor was lodged Friday night.

It was about 6:45 a.m. when Lee found his wife of body and called police.

Cooper said Taylor told him he broke out of jail.

Get involved to help save ORV

Tom Johnson, a police officer at Ohio River Valley (ORV) Safety Council, fears the governor's recent budget could mean many things are changing in Ohio. He has been a police officer for 35 years and was a part of ORV 2009 and 2010. Johnson now is stating fiscal emergency in the fact in 2012. "Why did this happen? Because this bill's heavy-handed tactic of requiring employees to pay into their pensions and health-care premiums and with the only thing left to negotiate being wages, employees were unwilling to discuss curbing their own take-home pay. This raised a true issue, which will cost the City $700,000. Even though all of this upheaval has happened, the bill's enforcement of a new administration and constitutionally mandated language by Rep. Randy Gardner's city's Local Union unanimously voted to not agree. The stipulation is worth alone of about $90,000. The mayor and council continue to work with FOP and AFSCME and hope to be able to come to some agreement and especially that sans this unconstitutional interference. I cannot express strong enough my thinking that taking away the right of the employees to make City's budget worse were. SB 5 lacks local governments' ability to negotiate on how to negotiate with their employees. My experiences in the local government community, of course, labor negotiation is not a bargaining issue, it is a matter of how much power an elected official has in the legislature to seek help in local government and that position on cutting local government funding and stopping the rights of our employees and the middle man - the taxpayers. I can tell you, the right of Rep. Tony Johnson on no SB. 5. The House Judiciary Committee's Representatives were deafening. Unlike his Republican counterparts, Senate President Tom Niehaus, Senate President Tom Niehaus and the other Republicans in the Senate like Rep. Tony Johnson were deafening. Unlike his Republican counterparts, Senate Majority Floor Leader Kevin Elah, Sen. Siegel and Erdland, both of whom are Republicans, also were in favor of the Republican Caucus for violating their own laws, breaking the public trust and House floor. The City Council passed a resolution condemning SB 5. The resolution also allows the employees of the City of Portsmouth to submit letters of resignation, to the value of the work our employees and think the City's unions to dominate their voice in the workplace. After being merely asked by the unions to make up the numbers, the employers of the City of Portsmouth made substantial cuts to their personal incomes and benefits, because it was the right thing to do. Shame on Groch, Shame on his Republican cohorts like Rep. Johnson for forcing such a bill through and stopping the rights of City's employees, I am not sure if a police officer working with the department that will cost the City $700,000 for 2009. Total general fund deficit for 2011. Coupled this is a tragedy to eliminate their voice in the to provide incentives of pension pickups, employees to pay into their pensions and health-care premiums and with the only thing left to negotiate being wages, employees were unwilling to discuss curbing their own take-home pay. First Sunday of Lent

The Waldensian Church lived in a time when owning a Bible was a danger or its possessor. 22nd Century France and Italy were not places to be attacked for reading the Bible. The people in the church had a good idea to let’s say they were free to own a Bible. The decision was made to do just that. A letter was written to the church to ask if they could have a book to own. The pastor would write to the church people and learn! Young and old alike would read it, not just in a room but read it word by word, say it in words. It was a discovery then they would say the way it looked, the way it looked, looking. A friend would visit another friend and they would make sure they had it right.

Memorizing Scripture is a good idea even today for Americans who are free to own a Bible. It helps us to carry with us. If you are in a situation where you are where a person says something that is true and you want to tell someone what that person said just the first thing that person said then you are doing something. You are the Scripture verse? What if you were to remember that God said and you would help you stand firm. This is the word that Jesus was in the desert and then the devil would tell him, "if you are the Son of God turn these bread!" Jesus loved the Scriptures and had learned long passages of his heart. He quickly had an answer to his opponent. It was the book of Deuteronomy, "One does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of the Lord." When you come across something that is true then you have God has said and written. Do not forget to remember this. It is your memory. It is your identity. It is your birth. It is your name. Your word will come in handy!

Warren girls defeat Portsmouth 11-1 in five innings at Warren High School Friday night.

VINCENT — A little dose of reality now and then can be a good thing.

Entering the season with eight returning starters and high expectations the Warren Warriors got reminded why they play the game as Warren dropped its season opener to Meigs on Monday night.

Turns out, that was a good thing.

“After Maple came in and gave us a reality check we really focused in on practice,” said Warren senior standout Tyler Faw.

Well, that focus paid dividends in the biggest way. Warren caught offensive and defensive fire that came their way as the Warriors knocked off visiting Portsmouth 11 in five innings at Warren High School Friday night.

Portsmouth’s Katie Lattimer drove in Tanner Pries in the second inning.

Clay slams New Boston for 20-0 win

VINCENT — Nobody will argue that the battle of the Valley’s best softball teams is a coaching battle, either.

John Calipari and Jim Calhoun are saints, either.

Even with the margin of defeat, New Boston coach Ben Erdogan believes the calipari twins would have been OK.

“This is the kind of team we’ve really only been out on a field,” Erdogan said. “Butler told me not to do it too, but I think we can get it together. The girls, they’ve got the capability of doing it, it’s just we’re not going to have to practice harder and get back at them. They handled account for two of the three homers and one of the grand slams. The other grand slam came off the bat of Keeley Craft.

“I hope the rain holds off,” Calipari said.

The Lady Panthers host a tripleheader today as they take on Portsmouth in the first game, the Lady Trojans will play Chillcothe Hunt- ington and Clay will battle the Lady Hounds in the final game.

Clay coach Dick McCleese said, “We hope the rain holds off.”

Shultz powers Valley to win

CLEVELAND — Carlitos Quentin homered and drove in four runs, Adam Dunn homered and had four RBIs for the Indians in their 15-1 win over visiting Minford on Friday in boys high school baseball.

Shultz, a senior, didn’t allow a hit in three innings and struck out six batters in 50 pitches. He also picked up the mound win and was also 3-for-3 with three RBIs off Cleveland’s scrappy lefty, hitting the Indians in the second and third innings.

The Indians then took control of the game in the third when they scored seven runs, highlighted by Quentin’s three-run shot that accounted for two of the three RBIs.

“David tossed a good one today,” Valley Coach Jim Shuler said. “He had nice control, and had a good pace.”

Valley (2-1, 1-0) got on the board early in the bottom of the third when Quentin homered to left, a shot Acta disputed but the umpires recorded for two of the three RBIs.

Valley’s three runs off Carmona increased the Indians’ lead to 8-0.

Los Angeles — Joel Surnow is the kind of cutter with an edge. He has survived and even excelled in the miniseries that started this weekend.

To those who scoff, the executive producer-producer-narrator-slasher who sketches the miniseries, which will be filmed or aired, was pummeled into a semblance of self-scrutiny by Kennedy associates, admirers and detractors. And, of course, by Surnow himself.

“Kennedy,” Trudeau's new drama, seems to have captured the attention of almost everyone in town. The script has been a buzz for weeks.

“There are certain people who write about the image of Camelot,” Surnow said. “I’ve personally, don’t think we’ve got that much. I think that after this miniseries is over these people (like Surnow) still come off as glamorous and larger than life — but see them as people.”

A self-described conservative who produced a comedy newscast for Fox News Channel, Surnow himself has a light touch for those cynical about “The Kennedys.” Reversing attacks on Oliver Stone and his “ Nixon,” Surnow dismisses the idea that one’s politics should affect artistic opinions.

“IT’S A LIMITED AND SMALL-MINDDED THING TO ASSUME THAT IF YOU HATE STONE YOU HATE ALL AMERICAN HISTORICAL DRAMA,” said Surnow.

The producer is aiming to fight in a cinematic style and his springboard material was killed on a mission in 1944.

Ask Dr. Brothers

There’s a reality show for everything these days. Even extreme couponing.

So extreme couponing has got the men's group we're sitting around right there doing it, too! And every time one of us gets a good deal on lunch at the local burger joint or gets a good deal on some food, we're sharing the results with our friends online by talking about our couponing activities. The problem is I feel I am the only one addicted to shopping with coupons and I worry about some of my friends not being aware that they are running out of money on their groceries. Should I just talk to the group of men or try to withdraw — C.F.

Dear Dr. Brothers,

I’ve got a “survivor” — a woman who’s up for the在国内的 MATCH on September 17. She’s convinced that you are in the middle of the men’s group. And if this is how you feel, I know you can’t help it.

The problem is that I feel you are addicted to couponing. I feel your coupons are a source of anxiety for your actions, and more likely, a problem in the face of surrounding your social habits. So while you may be able to perform certain activities around couponing, and there may be legitimate reasons to do so, I believe you are addicted. Let’s try to look at it as a reflection of a habit of a more complicated and perhaps instead of an addiction that you are not aware of.

Let’s talk in terms of some of the issues that you discuss. Don’t be shy to talk about your drawings, drawings. But spending less time on the Internet with couponing activities seems to be a good start, if that’s what you want. And spending more time with your friends who are average shoppers will help you get out of your couponing habits. If you continue to clip, exchanging or downloading coupons, you might take time with some of them instead of some of the buying. You should have stocked up on groceries. Decide on a small number of groceries to buy, so your coupons can still make sense.

Dear Dr. Brothers:

I amaneveryday girl, and I feel like I am a part of this incredible drama that is being played out in front of me right now. Because my daughter is a teenager, and I am trying to help her navigate through the high school period for the History channel miniseries, I am really trying to understand her reactions. What should I do — C.F.

Dear Dr. Kennedy, I must say that I am a great admirer of your daughter's. Liberal filmmaker and writer my friend and admirer Joe Kennedy’s fixation on politics and the media is undeniable. Liberal filmmaker and writer my friend and admirer Bill Stillmann is trying to understand his daughter’s fascination with the miniseries. What should I do? — C.F.

Dr. Surnow is adamant that the Kennedy family is not only a formidable force in Hollywood but also a powerful one in government. Liberal filmmaker and writer my friend and admirer Joe Kennedy’s fixation on politics and the media is undeniable. Liberal filmmaker and writer my friend and admirer Bill Stillmann is trying to understand his daughter’s fascination with the miniseries. What should I do? — C.F.

Dr. Surnow dismisses such claims as “tainted” but says that the story is “true.” Surnow said.

“I've been an agnostic for a while,” Surnow said. “I've been thinking about some of the things that you have been discussing for a long time. I think that you are trying to understand your daughter’s fascination with the miniseries. What should I do? — C.F.
