On Monday, two men were charged in the death of Joseph Foreman of Clemmons, who was found dead on June 30, 2010, at the Yadkin River access of NC 67. Nicholas Pasquale Pellizzi of Lewisville was charged with involuntary manslaughter and accessory after the fact. He was placed into the Yadkin County Jail on a $10,000 secured bond.

On the morning of June 7, 2010, Yadkin County Deputies responded to the Donnaha Park on NC 67, at the Yadkin River access where maintenance workers had discovered the deceased body of Chandler of Clemmons. He had been reported missing earlier that same morning by his mother in Forsyth County.

The Yadkin Police Department investigators are looking for a man in connection with the arrangements of the body that took place in the early hours of Saturday, Oct. 2.

According to police, the robbery, kidnapping, and murdering were in black, including a black mask, entered the home.

Wreath-laying ceremony for the Battle of Shallow Ford set for Oct. 9

The Yadkin Valley Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, in conjunction with the Battle of Shallow Ford and the Jonathan Hunt Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will mark the 230th anniversary of the Battle of Shallow Ford at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 9, near Bentonville, Yadkinville in Yadkin County. They will con- duct a wreath-laying ceremony on the battlefield at the grave of Patriot Capt. Henry Francis, who was killed during the fighting on Oct. 14, 1780. Historian Am Robert Francis of Salisbury is a Francis de- scendant will be the featured speaker.

Capt. Francis was from Virginia and the only American Patriot killed in the battle, which involved hundreds of soldiers on both sides. At least 12 local British Loyalists were killed. They are buried in a mass grave that has not been located.

As a result of the battle, lo- cal Patriot support increased, and Loyalists never again gath- ered in such numbers. The Battle of Shallow Ford, along with the Battle of King’s Mountain, which occurred one week before it, marked the turning point of the war in North Carolina. The ceremony is free and opens to the public. Small SAR signs will give directions to the site from U.S. 421 East 249 at Baltimore Road. From there, take Drinker Bottom Road south to Courtney-Bennett Road. Turn right and right again at Mulberry Field Road. For more information, call Ellis Hamby, SAR President at (336) 467-8000 or ellis-hambym@gmail.com.

It had to mean the political signs throughout Yadkin County; they are everywhere. Primarily, the signs are placed in yard of supporters of incumbent Sheriff Michael Chadwell.

By all accounts, it will be like to watch when voter turnouts are tallied sometime next month later from now.

The contest, so far, has the hallmark of a typical countywide election with changes by each candidate that their signs are tremendously different with recommendations from both candidates.

White-electroplated and black-painted those tactics are being seen across all of North Carolina.

But despite campaigning, signs play only part to what can be seen and will offer to Yadkin County voters what each has to say.

The first radio network — of sorts — debuted. It was a network from New York to bring the World Series game direct from the Polo Grounds.

Bruce Sims gets the jump on Trojan quarterback Kyle Hoffman for the sack.

After the dust had settled from the annual Bridge battle, the Starmount Rams walked away with a huge 59-6 win, and the Battle of the Bridge trophy. The Rams will hold onto the trophy for another year, until the Billips carry it to Boonville next year to try and capture the coveted throne of the Hugh Chatman Memorial Bridge.

Things were steady down for the Rams on their first offensive possession. The Elkins defense couldn't quite get the jump and the Rams broke the game open. Bruce Sims gets the jump on Trojan quarterback Kyle Hoffman for the sack.

Despite his six rushes for over 150-yards and one touchdown to his credit, Murphy had 10 rushes for only 47-yards. Tanner Vestal had one touch- down for 79-yards, McDaniel took the ball on a handoff and got his second touchdown of the night with 10:50 left in the game. Bryant had 13 touch- downs for 79-yards, McDaniel had seven rushes for 130-yards, and Billips had five touches for 79-yards.

The Rams completed four out of passes for only 47- yards. Tanner Vestal had one touchdown reception for 20-yards.

They're a good football team. They pretty much brought it to us all night. We brought all week we could play without. That's the way we go into each game," said Elkin coach Scott Wood.

Elkin had trouble getting anything going on offense. The Rams had three players with over 100-yards rushing. Bryant had 13 touch- downs for 140-yards. McDaniel had seven rushes for 130-yards, and Billips had five touches for 79-yards.
