Cover Artist’s Biography
If our cover art looks familiar, it’s because the artist knows a lot about making it look that way. Oil painter and watercolorist Deirdre O’Byrne has been practicing her craft since her native Dublin youth, drawing from her travels in America and Europe to record both the letter and the spirit of her subjects. The Mission Valley resident paints in the plein-air style – “plein air” being a fancy-schmancy term for “outdoors” – so that nary a sight or sound escapes her attention in translating her fondest, most colorful impressions. You can see more of her work at www.odoodle.com.

Welcome to La Jolla

“The real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new landscapes, but in having new eyes.” — Marcel Proust

Whether you are a longtime inhabitant of the Village or just visiting, welcome to the Summer 2009 visitor’s guide to La Jolla, published by La Jolla Village News.

It’s easy to be impressed by La Jolla’s beauty when first setting eyes on this charmed spot where the ocean meets the land. So if La Jolla is new to you, this guide will help you plan your days in paradise, from eye-opening breakfasts to spicy sushi to nightspots, with museums, the aquarium and shopping in between.

So much to do, so little time — if your stay is short. But what about the lucky souls who live in La Jolla? How many hometown adventures and thrilling sights have you experienced?

Here is where Proust’s quote comes in: It’s possible to live in a place and slowly become immune to your surroundings. Sometimes it takes a drastic illness or other close call to awaken to the beauty all around you. Sometimes falling in love will do it.

That’s the challenge to La Jollans: to fall in love with La Jolla all over again. Look at this jewel by the sea with new eyes of appreciation.

Perhaps you live in the Shores but don’t know its rich history. Or you’ve been intrigued by the Athenaeum or one of the new galleries in town but haven’t stopped by. I hope this visitor’s guide will inspire you to take a voyage of rediscovery of the place you call home. What we have here, and too often take for granted, are things that other people put on their vacation wish lists.

So take your shoes off and wiggle your toes in the sand as you scan these pages. I hope you will get excited all over again and see La Jolla with new eyes. — Anne Terhune
